Outcast

Survival server with 6 players; every day [when server is up], the players have to decide (via voting) who leaves the server. Upon being removed from the group, the outcast is teleported to a specific place in the Nether and gains the objective to eliminate the remaining players (not outcasts).

Lasts a week.

Quest Tune (coming soon:TM:)

Survival server with any amount of players; the players get a random quest every Minecraft day (the previous one disappears); the players can also choose a class and gain a skill tree, allowing you to get various abilities.

Industrial Age (coming soon:TM:)

Survival server with any amount of players; a lot of custom items, blocks, machines etc created to assist in automation of every item ever.
